

PARADIGMS FOR MISSION RENEWAL

What if the biggest challenges we face in the work of mission renewal are adaptive ones, not technical ones? What if we don't need to figure out a better way to do what we've always done, we need to figure out a new way to be who and what God is calling us to be? As congregations move forward, it is helpful to consider a series of paradigm shifts. Here is a concrete way of imagining the breadth and depth of renewal.

OLD PARADIGM	NEW PARADIGM
Church is a place assumed to be an important part of people's lives and the world. Therefore, we expect people to want to be part of a congregation.	Church is a community gathered by the Spirit and blessed to be a blessing. Church is less a noun, more a verb; less a place, more a way of life.
The congregation is an organization focused on serving its members. Membership is how one belongs to the congregation and how it belongs to you.	The congregation is a mission outpost and is therefore focused on serving its mission field (i.e., the neighborhood, city, and world).
Ministry is done through programs. Programs address perceived problems (e.g., "We don't have youth; we need youth ministry.") and are directed by Staff.	Ministry is about vocation. Vocation is living out the spiritual gifts given to us in baptism. Vocation happens in relationships. We are a priesthood of all believers.
Outreach is about doing nice things for others. Evangelism is about getting new members, because more members means more money, and more money means we can keep doing what we've always done.	Outreach is a combination of service, advocacy, and relationship building. Evangelism is about sharing our faith stories in spiritual friendships.
Worship is about expressing praise to God in a comfortable setting; it's also about fulfilling a religious obligation.	Worship imagines a world. Worship shapes us into the kind of people God is calling us to become. Liturgy is the "work of the people" and so it is diverse and contextual.
Christian Education is about learning the bible and passing on the Lutheran confessional tradition. But it's optional.	Christian Education is about making disciples of Jesus. It is centered on faith practices in the home, workplace, and together at church.
Congregational Life/Fellowship really means "social committee." It's about coffee hour and potluck dinners.	Congregational Life is about creating a culture of hospitality, service, discipleship, and prayer within the congregation. It's our collective spirituality.
Stewardship/Finance are essentially the same thing; it's about how we're going to keep the lights on.	Stewardship is about how we are using all the resources God has given us. Finance is about aligning our money with our mission priorities.
Lay Leaders serve out of duty; it's about whose turn it is to serve on council. Pastors work hard, trying to give people what they want. They are busy meeting needs, solving problems, and answering questions.	Congregational Leadership is a dynamic partnership between clergy and lay leaders that cultivates a new environment that fosters missional creativity. Leaders work together to ask the right questions, invite others to serve, and love people into a new way of being church.
Decisions are made by the leaders. Council delegates day to day tasks and programs to staff. The congregation votes on major things once or twice per year.	Decisions are made through spiritual discernment. The more participants in a decision-making process, the wiser it will be. Council and staff are lead-learners.

This resource was developed for congregational use. Please use freely! The compilers also welcomes questions, further conversation, and feedback:

Tim Snyder, Outreach Architect at Hope Lutheran Church (St. Paul, MN). Tim formerly served as mission developer of The Netzer Co-Op (Austin, TX). Contact: tknyder@gmail.com

Paul Erickson, Director for Evangelical Mission, Saint Paul Area Synod, ELCA. Contact: paul.erickson@elca.org